

Ebola Update – 17 November 2014 EQUATORIAL GUINEA
--

According to information received recently from our Bata and Malabo offices, the measure banning all vessels arriving from any African country has now been replaced by less radical steps:

Bata:

- Only vessels arriving via Sierra Leone, Liberia and Guinea are banned from berthing.

Malabo:

- Vessels arriving via Sierra Leone, Liberia and Guinea may be authorised to berth once the local health authority officer has carried out a health check. The health authority officers board with the pilots.

Nationally

The general travel restrictions have been softened slightly:

- Incoming and outgoing flights to/from Sao Tome et Principe, Cameroon, Ivory Coast, Ghana, Republic of Congo, Benin, Togo, Nigeria and Gabon have now resumed.
- However, issuance of visas remains suspended for those intending to travel to Equatorial Guinea from the Central and West African countries and vice versa.
- There have still not been any reported cases of Ebola in Equatorial Guinea.

Sarah Penwarden, Budd Marseille
sarah.penwarden@budd-pni.com